

Q&A

I have just given birth and am starting to lose the luscious locks I had for the past nine months, I need damage control!

As your hormone levels start levelling out after childbirth, it is quite common to start losing hair from three to nine months after delivery of your baby. Your hair growth cycle should return to normal but there are effective treatments available that can help stabilise hair loss and promote hair growth. Seek professional help early to better understand the reason for your hair loss.

My hair texture is very dry and wavy and I've been straightening it for the past three years. What's the best way to handle my frizzy, rebellious hair?

Do not fret. Visiting your stylist for regular trims will help with the texture and dry ends. For a long-term healthier option, try gentler straightening products such as Arimino Cosme Cream, while embracing your naturally wavy hair. To keep your hair in tip-top condition, have either an in-salon or at-home intensive treatment weekly. Talk to your stylist about a cut that will show off your wavy locks, and daily care products to nourish dry hair without weighing it down.

BOOST HAIR GROWTH A full head of lustrous, healthy hair is a sign of vitality. Lazio Medispa offers a unique, customised hair revitalising therapy using an FDA-approved low level laser therapy to optimise hair growth – it's a painless, no-downtime treatment. When cells absorb laser light, cell metabolism and blood flow are boosted, and hair growth is stimulated. This clinically-proven hair loss treatment is safe even for children and post-natal mothers.

PREVENT AND REJUVENATE THE GREEN WAY Give your skin a break from harsh treatments, and experience cleaner, healthier skin with the Lazio Organic Rejuvenating Facial, tailored to your specific needs – normal-oily, blemish-prone, dry, sensitive or skin showing signs of ageing – using Organic Apoteke products that are Ecocert and alcohol-free.

HEALING BEYOND SKIN-DEEP The fine lines and dark spots on your skin are telltale signs of early aging. Turn back the hands of time with Lazio's age-defying Gemstones Healing Facial. Heated gemstones are placed on various parts of the face to stimulate relevant acupressure points for improved skin tone and elasticity. This deeply relaxing ritual is also offered for the body, and is said to help with intestinal or menstrual problems.

Lazio Medispa offers luxury in customised hair, face and body treatments. Experience healing Gemstones Facial and Body Massage, certified organic skincare therapy, as well as specialised therapies for hair loss, including botanical hair colouring and frizz relief and Italian-designed therapeutic hair spa.
